A parody of uninspired, unoriginal, and insensitive knockoffs of Everywhere at The End of Time. Once again, loud sound warning (but not as much here as GimmeYouGimmeUs.)
Before you ask, we're also parodying ourselves, we understand NATMOS wasn't the most original, this project is made out of humility and for fun. And if you yourselves feel like you're shamed by this, remember it's alright to do what you want, have your fun.

ALL RESPECT TO:
Leyland Kirby
The Carebear (EITBON is made in dedication to a real person, stop harassing The Carebear)

EverywhereAtSHUTTHEFUCKUP (commonly abbreviated as EASTFU) is the second studio album by The Caretakers alternate alias The CareBREAKers, released on April 27, 2021. Heavily inspired by V/VM and The Caretaker, the album consists of a variety of different themed tracks, ranging from intentionally bad remixes to heavily disfigured and amplified samples used in The Caretaker's works.

According to Jordan Keuring, the album is best described as a parody of Caretaker fan projects and is considered ironic as majority if not all of the contributors to EverywhereAtSHUTTHEFUCKUP are most known for their prior contributions to Caretaker-inspired works.

The album cover is an edited version of "necrotomigaud" the Stage 6 cover from Everywhere at The End of Time.

Background

EverywhereAtSHUTTHEFUCKUP was formally announced on April 7th, 2021, by Jordan Keuring on the Caretaker Fan Projects Discord server.

Jordan stated in the information channel for the project:

> "the brand new WIP project from The CareBREAKers! This project will be a huge middle finger to overdone EATEOT clones in the best way these folks know how; DESTRUCTION. We will create hours of pure harsh noise hell out of overused al bowlly and russ morgan samples until we have something to be hated and loved by listeners."

Shortly afterwards, Jordan had to remind everyone to not sample Leyland Kirby's tracks, to prevent copyrighted music sampling issues similar to what had happened to Forevermore, and Nevermore in their early days of production.
